Copies of the listed documents are attached, excluding any U.S. Patents, U.S. Patent Application Publications, and co-pending U.S. Patent Applications, which are available in the Image File Wrapper System.

The United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit held in Dayco Products, Inc. v. Total Containment, Inc., 329 F.3d 1358, 66 U.S.P.Q.2d 1801 (Fed. Cir. 2003), that an "adverse decision" by another examiner may meet the materiality standard under the amended Rule 56, and thus, Applicants should disclose prior rejections of "substantially similar claim[s]" to the Office. Accordingly, although Applicants are not representing that the office actions in the co-pending applications are material to the present application and are not admitting that any of the other claims are substantially similar, out of an abundance of caution, Applicants have listed the substantive office actions filed in co-pending applications on the attached form. At the Examiner's request, Applicants have not included copies of the office actions from co-pending applications issued by the Examiner of this application.

Applicants' representatives understand from the Examiner that in other related co-pending applications the Examiner considered references cited in the Forms PTO-1449 filed, but that she had crossed through some of the citations and did not initial the entries to avoid the printing of the those documents on the face of any patent granted there from. In the present case, Applicants are resubmitting on the attached form documents previously submitted but crossed through or not initialed by the previous Examiner for the present Examiner's consideration. In light of the present Examiner's representations regarding the crossing-out of references in the related co-pending applications, Applicants will consider any entries crossed through by her as having been properly submitted and considered by the Examiner, unless the Examiner specifically states otherwise in the papers returning the form.

Applicants respectfully request that the Office consider the listed documents and indicate that they were considered by making appropriate notations on the attached form.
